A FAMOUS GENERAL RECOMMENDS PE-RU-NA.

GEN. JAMES LONGSTREET.

Of the great Generals of the Confederate Army in the United States few remain. The most conspicuous figure among these is General James Longstreet, of Gainesville, Ga. His loyalty and courage in defending the lost cause won the admiration of the world. As a survivor of that splendid chivalry peculiar to our Southern States two generations ago, General Longstreet is one of the most unique men of his age.

He is a man of few words, but when he does speak his opinions are accepted by his fellow-countrymen with profound respect, if not reverence. In commenting upon Peruna, the old General made use of the following language:

"I can testify to the merits of Peruna, both as a tonic and a catarrh remedy. Peruna enjoys the greatest reputation as a catarrh remedy of any medicine yet devised."—James Longstreet.

General Smith Benefited.

General Robert Smith, ex-M. C., and now collector of customs at Beaufort, S. C., who resides at Beaufort, S. C., in a recent letter from Washington, D. C., says:

"I have used Peruna for catarrhal troubles and find it beneficial, and to be all that it promises, and freely give it my unqualified recommendation."

Peruna has become to be so universally recognized as a specific cure for catarrh, acute or chronic, coughs, colds, bronchitis, that it is amazing that any one should continue to suffer on with such a terrible malady, neglecting to take a course of treatment with it. Of course it may be that some people have not yet come to know of this great catarrh remedy, but it is strange that it should be so after such multitudes have been cured by it and so many papers have heralded it from one end of the country to the other. But the news travels faster and faster every month, and no one can fail to see that the time is not far distant when Peruna will be known in every household in the land.

General Butler Relieved by Peruna.

Ex. U. S. Senator M. C. Butler, of South Carolina, in a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., from Washington, D. C., says:

"Your medicine, Peruna, I believe to be the best medicine for catarrh on the market. I have taken only a small amount, and can see very beneficial results. I shall continue its use and recommend it to my friends and comrades for all catarrhal affections."—W. G. Yarnell.

BRIG. GEN'L. GEO. W. COOK.

"As a number of my friends have used Peruna for catarrh with such good results, I can safely recommend it to all sufferers of like disorders."

BRIGADIER-GENERAL GEORGE W. COOK.

GENERAL DUFFIELD'S ENDORSEMENT.

General W. W. Duffield, General in the Mexican war and General of the Union Army in the late Civil war, in a letter written from "The Cairo," Washington, D. C., says the following of Peruna:

"I have used Peruna in my family and have found it a valuable medicine, and take pleasure in recommending it to all who suffer from catarrh of the stomach or who require a tonic of efficiency."

Peruna the Soldier's Friend.

No wonder the American soldier is a friend of Peruna, when such a renowned officer as General Longstreet gives Peruna his hearty endorsement. Every one connected with the army and navy can have no reasonable doubt as to the merits of the remedy. No remedy ever yet devised has received such unqualified eulogy from so many renowned statesmen and military men as Peruna.

There is a natural reason for this. Peruna is a specific for catarrh wherever located. It not only instantly cures acute catarrh but even old cases of chronic catarrh vanish under its persistent use. The soldier is especially subject to catarrh in some form or place. Exposed as he is to constant changes, subjected as he is to the vicissitudes of climate, wet and dry, night and day, he finds catarrh to be his most insidious and ever present foe. In field and barracks, Peruna is equally efficacious. Taken in time, it will absolutely prevent catching cold. After the cold has become established Peruna will break it up quicker than any remedy known to man. Even after the cold has settled in some organ, Peruna can be relied upon to promptly dispel it.

This is why Peruna is so popular in the army and navy to-day. It is precisely the remedy that meets the particular needs of this class of people exposed. Our army and navy is the natural protection of our country; Peruna is the natural protection of the army and navy in the vicissitudes of climate and exposure.

The number of specific catarrh remedies is small indeed; the number of catarrh palliatives is legion. The effect of catarrh palliatives is often immediate, but always temporary; they never cure. This kind of catarrh medicine includes sprays, snuffs, inhalants, gargles and local applications of all kinds. They seem to cure for awhile, but the disease is sure to return.

General Noske Says: Gen. Chas. F. Noske, 213 B St., N. W., Washington, D. C., First Brig. General District of Potomac, U. S. A., writes: "I, as well as many of my friends and acquaintances who have suffered from colds producing catarrh, have been using your Peruna and have been much benefited by its curative qualities. I commend it to those who are so troubled as a most efficacious cure and as a good general tonic."

General Lumax Writes. Gen. L. Lumax, 1603 19th St., Washington, D. C., writes: "I can cheerfully recommend your remedy as a permanent and effective cure for catarrh, colds, and to any one who needs an invigorating tonic to build up their system."

General Chase Knows Peruna. Gen. B. F. Chase, Asst. Adjt. General, G. A. R., in a letter from 28 Harrison St., Annapolis, D. C., writes: "The excellence of Peruna as a cure or relief for catarrhal disturbances is well established. Many of my friends have been benefited by its use."—B. F. Chase.

Brig Gen. D. T. Kirby.

Brigadier-General D. T. Kirby, Washington, D. C., writes:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.: Gentlemen,—I am much impressed with the curative qualities of Peruna, as many of my friends have used it with such good results, and I can recommend it to all those who are afflicted with catarrh."—General D. T. Kirby.

The above testimonials are only specimens of the many thousand letters received touching the merits of Peruna as a catarrhal tonic. No more useful remedy to tone up the system has ever been devised by the medical profession.

GEN. S. S. YODER.

General S. S. Yoder, ex-Member of Congress from Ohio, in a recent letter to Dr. Hartman, speaks of Peruna as follows:

I cannot find words to express my gratification for the results obtained. As a catarrh cure I shall gladly recommend it to all sufferers."—S. S. Yoder.

the President and had the satisfaction of seeing him obey. I was in charge of the convention when I noticed Miss Clara Barton enter the room. Turning to President Roosevelt, I said: 'Comrade Roosevelt, I detail you to proceed to the door and escort Miss Barton to a seat on the platform.' The President jumped up like any of you boys would have done, and performed his duty."
